HAGERTY ALONE AGAINST GERMAN LANGUAGE BAR

Upper House Spends Entire Afternoon Considering Foreign Language Measure.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 18.—Suspending the constitutional rules, the state senate Monday afternoon received and passed a new anti-German language bill, prohibiting the teaching of any foreign language of foreign subject in elementary, parochial or private schools. The bill does not apply to high schools inasmuch as this feature was covered in a bill passed by the senate and now before the house. The vote on the new bill was 64 to 1. Sen. Charles Hagerty, South Bend, opposing it. Sen. John Decker, Bluffton, was absent.

The entire afternoon was spent in considering the bill and several amendments were offered to change the phraseology and one amendment adopted added another section to provide that if the supreme court should hold any part of the bill unconstitutional, the other sections would still be valid.

Sen. Franklin McCray introduced the bill, after Lieut. Gov. Bush opened the session with a speech in which he deplored the delay of the legislature in enacting other pending anti-German bills into laws. Bush said that the bill was drawn by himself and McCray to assure that any legislation on this subject was "absolutely right." He referred to the quibbling over the Negley-Aldredge bill, applying the anti-German doctrine to the common schools and the Lowe house bill placing parochial and private schools under the same regulations. He indirectly took exception to the three weeks delay of the Negley-Aldredge bill in the lower house and the house delay on the Lowe bill.

"There is an insidious serpent abroad in this land," Bush warned. "We have seen the trail this serpent leaves and I believe it is present even in this legislature."

Opening his speech, Bush read a petition from 150 residents of Seymour of German extraction, who demanded action on the pending legislation against the teaching of the German language. Immediately following the speech, which was greeted with applause from the floor of the senate and the visitors' gallery, the lieutenant governor recognized Sen. McCray for introduction of the bill.

Fundamentals in English.
"The bill is not intended or construed in any way to interfere in any degree with any religious sect as to its form of worship, catechism, or any other manner in which people worship," Sen. McCray explained. "It applies only to the fundamentals of education, that they be in the English language and not in German."

During Sen. McCray's speech the Negley-Aldredge bill and the Lowe bill, passed by the house last Thursday, were transmitted to the senate, but they were ignored and probably will be considered tomorrow. The McCray bill, to be known as senate bill 276, will be transmitted to the house early tomorrow.

There was some fight on suspending the rules, some senators wanting until tomorrow to consider the bill before they voted on it.

Sen. Negley was joined by Sen. Kling in asking that the Negley-Aldredge bill, which was amended by the house, be considered. This, Sen. Masters contended, would not conform to the demand of the public, and he characterized the bill as the "biggest joke that has ever been perpetrated on the people of Indiana."

No Opposition Over State.
He said the Negley-Aldredge bill was not drastic enough and that the new bill would answer the purpose. Masters unsuccessfully tried to amend the new bill to make it more drastic. Negley, answering this, said no opposition had developed over the state to his bill and declared that the motion to suspend the rules was "born of panic."

Regretting that he could not vote for the first section, which applies to elementary schools, Hagerty defended his vote on the ground that the legislature should not enter religious schools or those maintained by private money.

Hagerty told of the Polish interests of St. Joseph county and their participation in the war, and said he did not believe in the policy of legislating them out of the right to conduct their education in the Polish language.

The senate adjourned about six o'clock until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow, after having considered the anti-German bill since 2:15 o'clock.

More interest was manifested among the members of the lower house this afternoon in the business before the senate than that before them, and little was accomplished in the three-hour session which was convened at 2 o'clock. The senate measure, providing for the creation of a state department of banking, was the only measure passed. It was carried by a vote of 74 to 21, the democratic members forming the bulwark of the opposition along with nine republicans, including Reps. Rowbottom, Smith, Grayson, Day, Delaplan, Hare, Jinnott, Lowe and Sambor. Building and loan associations throughout the state made a final effort before the session was convened to have the bill defeated. They carried their fight to Gov. Goodrich who, however, is expected to sign the measure when it reaches him. The bill provides for the appointment of a banking commissioner by the governor at a salary of $2,500 annually and supervision of financial institutions within the state being placed in his hands.

Reports reaching the house that the senate was discussing the German language question, upon taking up the Lowe house bill and the Negley senate measure as amended by the house and that the house was being censured for the provisions of the bills, attracted the interest of house members. They then postponed until tomorrow the administration measure providing for cities having power to adopt the commission or city manager form of government, which was opposed by several republicans.

FORMS FOR MAKING INCOME TAX RETURNS ARE NOW READY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Individuals with incomes of $5,000 or less may now obtain income tax return forms at offices of revenue collectors or banks, the revenue bureau announced today. The forms have been distributed throughout the country, and were released today without awaiting signature of the revenue bill by the president. The form for individual incomes of more than $5,000 and other tax return forms will be available within two weeks.

The individual form for incomes of $5,000 or less is a printed sheet divided into three parts, one constituting a "work sheet" on which a taxpayer may figure his income according to the guide provided, another containing detailed instructions, and the third being the actual return form. Married persons or heads of families who made $2,000 or more and single persons who made $1,000 or more in 1918 must make out returns before March 15.

OFFERS GERMAN LOAN TO U. S. FOR FOOD

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Among the declarations of Matthias Erzberger at Treves, according to a Berlin dispatch published in the Temps, was one to the American representative on the armistice commission that Germany went to the aid of the United States from 1862 to 1865 during the great economic crisis, furnishing money, clothes, shoes and food. If the United States came to the aid of Germany today, more than fifty years afterwards, Erzberger said she could give Germany food and raw materials against a German loan and at the same time would be doing a good stroke of business. Erzberger said Germany was suffering from hunger. The doctors had made known the number of victims of the blockade. More than a half million men, women and children had died from exhaustion or the result of lessened capacity to resist disease, he said. He declared that Bismarck immediately gave succor to Paris in 1871 after the Franco-Prussian war. Erzberger gave warning that bolshevism would result from hunger in Germany. He protested against what he termed the oppression against everything German in Alsace-Lorraine and against the encouragement given by the entente "to the Polish appetite for conquest."

Germany, Erzberger declared, had accepted French Wilson's fourteen points for peace, and the allies also had been accepted. Article 2, he said, did not give to the allies the right to forbid the German people from defending themselves against such encroachments as the Poles were making.

GERMANY HAD PLANNED AN ENORMOUS AIRPLANE

BERLIN, Sunday, Feb. 18.—If the war had lasted a few months longer Germany was prepared to surprise the world with an enormous airplane. The new giant of the air, which was planned by Harold Wolff, an engineer, will have its first trial at Döberitz within a few days.

The new machine is nearly 165 feet from wing tip to wing tip and stands more than 25 feet high. It has six motors with a total of 1,800 horsepower, driven by four propellers, two of which are forward and two aft. Each of the propellers has four blades. Two of the motors, it is said, can stop simultaneously without affecting any of the propellers or having any result except to reduce the speed of the airplane.

Apart from its dimensions and power, the new airplane is not only equipped with devices enabling the pilots to know at all times their altitude and angle of elevation, but also with devices to tell the absolute as well as relative direction which, it is believed, will make flying possible on the darkest night and in the thickest fog. The device for determining the absolute direction consists of an instrument adapted to receiving messages from various wireless stations and capable of such adjustment that a message from any particular station can be heard only when the device is turned in that direction.

SNOW FORCES AIRPLANE TO LAND; TOTAL WRECK

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Feb. 18.—The airplane carrying Maj. Gen. William Kelly, chief of military aeronautics, from Washington, D. C., to Columbus, O., was forced down by a snowstorm two miles northwest of here this afternoon. The machine struck on its nose, overturned and was a total wreck. Maj. V. C. Ocker, pilot, sustained a broken nose, but Maj. Gen. Kelly was uninjured.

BAD TEETH OFTEN CAUSES RHEUMATISM

SAYS IT'S EASY WHEN YOU HAVE THE RIGHT MEDICINE

So Says James H. Allen, Who Drove Out Rheumatic Poison After Being Grippled for Years.

Take my prescription, which all first class druggists dispense under the name Allenru, says James H. Allen. In two days it will start to drive the poisonous uric acid from your joints and muscles, and free you from all rheumatic pain and agony and reduce swollen joints. Rheumatic poison often gets into the system through decayed teeth, and in consequence, people who desire to avoid rheumatism in years to come should have had teeth attended to at once.

Wear warm clothes, get out in the fresh air and sunshine whenever possible; keep the body clean, drink plenty of pure water, don't overload your stomach, and avoid alcohol, even in mildest form.

These are precautions worth heeding but to banish all signs and traces of rheumatism and do it quickly. Hundreds of well people, once full of rheumatism, will freely urge you to get a bottle of Allenru at once.

The blessed relief this marvelous prescription quickly gives has made for it thousands of friends. It is Mr. Allen's own discovery; it made him strong and well after rheumatism had crippled him and made him unfit for work. It is guaranteed. Adv.
